Thirty-Second Sunday of the year – Reflection: The lesson that Jesus offers us today helps us to recover what is essential in our life and fosters a practical and daily relationship with God. Brothers and sisters, the Lord's scales are different from ours. He weighs people and their actions differently: God does not measure quantity but quality; he examines the heart; he looks at the purity of intentions. This means that our "giving" to God in prayer and to others in charity should always steer clear of ritualism and formalism, as well as of the logic of calculation, and must be an expression of gratuity, as Jesus did with us: he saved us freely. And we must do things as an expression of gratuity. This is why Jesus points to that poor and generous widow as a model of Christian life to be imitated. We do not know her name; however, we know her heart – we will find her in Heaven and go to greet her, certainly; and that is what counts before God. When we are tempted by the desire to stand out and give an accounting of our altruistic gestures, when we are too interested in the gaze of others and – might I say – when we act like 'peacocks', let us think of this woman. It will do us good: it will help us to divest ourselves of the superfluous in order to go to what truly counts, and to remain humble. (Pope Francis)

Confessions will be celebrated after Monday evening and Friday evening Mass.

There will be a Novena of Masses celebrated for the Faithful Departed during the month of November. Traditional list of November Masses for the Dead is available in the church. It may be completed, put into an envelope and placed in the basket in front of the Altar or you may wish to leave it in the parochial house letter box.

Remember those who died during the past year: On Sunday 24 November at the 11.00am Mass in Ballyoisin, we will remember all those who have died from our parish community and remember by name all those who have died since this time last year.
